Equal Treatment Law

The use of the male form when referring to persons or functionaries in the following text does not mean a gender-specific definition. Members of both sexes should be addressed on an equal footing.

General Notes

The release integrates new functionalities, optimizations and bug fixes into the software.

Please read these release notes to be up-to-date concerning the new program version and to get important information on handling new functions. Detailed information on using the system components can be found in the Content Author Guide, which is stored directly in the Content Management System and updated continuously

https://author.prod.an-cms.com/assetdetails.html/content/dam/aldi/global/guides-and-documentation/Content-Author-Guide_EN.pdf

The Firefox browser in the latest version is to be used as the standard browser while working in the AEM (see also: Chapter B 1. Author environments)

If you have any questions about this update, please contact MRM / McCANN external support at aldi-support@mrm-mccann.de

- Enhancement Promotion Day Page: Article Section
- New Template: Product Overview Page
- New Component: Content Slider
- Bugfixes
- Important Information

Enhancement Contest Form

For Contest Forms it is now possible to allow the uploading of assets by the customers, for example images or pdfs. Furthermore, an additional field can be integrated on the Contest Form to allow the customer to integrate various information.

To integrate the Upload functionality in your Contest form, please fill in the required fields within the contest component in the tab Participant data. Here you can define the general labels for the upload and an email address to which the uploaded files should be sent to. The same applies for the usage of the additional field.

The uploaded assets will be sent to an ALDI Inbox and checked for any virus. This Mail also contains an ID which assigns the asset to elettershop. To ensure that this works properly the Upload field must therefore also be integrated on the recipient list of the respective contest.

Enhancement Promotion Day Pages: Article Section

The Article Section component is now also available on the Promotion Day Pages and give authors the possibility to integrate editorial components into the Article filtering:

This can be done by integrating both Article Tile Groups and editorial components into one Article Section component. If an Article Section component does not contain an Article Tile Group the integrated editorial components are always shown, neverminding any filter criteria.

New Template: Product Overview Page 1/2

A new Overview template is available for the Product section: the Product Overview Page. It can be integrated beneath the Startpage and the Product Category Pages can be integrated beneath the new template.

The new template can contain the following features:

- Searchbar, which is displayed directly beneath the title
- the teasers to the Product Category pages located beneath the Product Overview Page. They are placed within the Product Category Overview component, which comes automatically with the template.
- the Content Slider component to promote the assortment and ownbrand pages (please see below for further information)

Important Information

Good to Know:

Beneath the Product Overview Page, you cannot create a second Product Overview Page.

Regarding the display of the corresponding Product Category Pages there will be the initial number of 6 displayed categories on mobile devices and 8 for desktops. To see all referenced categories the user has the choice to click on "see all" or vice versa on "see less".

Per default the categories are displayed in alphabetical order. However, the author also has the possibility to define the order. This can be done via drag and drop within the Product Category Overview component.

On the template itself you can integrate all components known from the Editorial Overview Page, except "Job Search Bar" and "Job Quick Search". All componts can be positioned freely except searchbar which have a fix position under the page title.

New Component: Content Slider

The Content Slider component is a horizontal slider component that can be integrated on the following templates:

- Startpage
- Editorial Page
- Recipe Overview Page
- Recipe Page
- Product Overview Page
- Product Category Page

The author can decide whether the slides within the slider should be displayed in small or large tiles and whether the Show all button should be shown.

Within the various slides a teaser image needs to be integrated and the URL to the page where the tile should link to. Optionally, a title can also be defined. If a title is inserted, the author can also choose a color theme that will be displayed in the background of the title.

Bugfixes

Newsletter Text-Media component: When filling out the Text variant within the Newsletter Text Media component it is now correctly transferred as text and not html.

Stage and Teaser Image in Page Properties: With the last release it was mandatory to integrate a stage and a teaser image within the page properties of the templates. This has been changed and the integration of images is optional again.

Storage Reduction: The Storage reduction feature was not running smoothly. This issue has been fixed.

H1 Error message: When trying to publish a page that had more than one or no H1 headline integrated, an error message appeared but did not state what was the issue. This has been fixed.

Career Page: On the Job Quick search the text and the icon overlapped. Also the close button was misaligned. Both has been fixed.

Bugfixes

Videos on IOS: On IOS videos were not displayed properly. This has been fixed.

Article approval: For DE articles had lost their approval. The cause for this issue had been analysed and fixed.

Videos on IOS: On IOS videos were not displayed properly. This has been fixed.

Only relevant for BE -> Newsletter text-media tile linking: Issue with Newsletter text-media tile linking has been fixed now.
